

LA FOLLETTE OBJECTS AND DELAYS WAR TAX BILL

Lowell's History Portrayed By 2000 Playground Children On South Common

GREAT SEND-OFF FOR NEW YORK TROOPS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The long expected senate debate on war profits features of the war tax bill was finally in full swing today following disposal of the publishers tax provisions yesterday.

Reaction favoring even higher levies on war profits than the compromise advances of the finance committee were preparing to support a flat rate of at least 50 per cent.

When debate opened Senator Underwood was ready to speak in favor of Senator Bankhead's substitute providing mainly for a tax of 75 per cent on profits based on capitalization of 20 per cent of over.

Pending today was a petition for cloture signed by 56 senators in an effort to limit debate and hasten passage of the bill. Senator Simmons, who presented the petition will seek unanimous consent agreement to fix a date for a vote on the measure before demanding action on cloture.

Before Senator Underwood began his address Senator Simmons failed to secure unanimous consent for a final vote next Monday. Senator La Follette objected, assailing the cloture movement and declaring he would object to any effort to close debate until

NEWS FROM CITY HALL

STATE PRIMARIES

The state primaries will be held in this city Sept. 25 and it is up to the members of the municipal council to state what hours the polls will be open on that day. Heretofore it has been customary to open the polls at 12 noon and close at 9 p. m., but it is hoped by many that this year a change in the hours will be made.

It was suggested at city hall this morning that on the day of the primaries the polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. the same hours as on election days, for it is argued that by closing the polls at 9 p. m. the clerks who have to tabulate the result of the vote are kept working practically all night, especially when a state ticket has to be put in order. It is believed that if the polls opened at 6 a. m. and closed at 4 p. m. the vote cast would be larger, if not larger and the returns would be turned in much sooner.

Hearings on Petitions

On Monday, Sept. 10, at 7.30 p. m. Commissioner Morse will hold hearings in the aldermanic chamber at city hall on the following petitions: Eusebio Christman and others that a sewer be laid in Commonwealth avenue; Redmond McGrath, that a sidewalk of edgeboards and curbs be laid opposite 21 Sargent street; Burton H. Wiggin and Michael McDermott, that a sewer be laid in Mission place; Craven Mogley and Alvin Spence, that a sidewalk of edgeboards be laid in Eleventh street and Merrill ave.

Poll Tax Bills

In order to get the poll tax bills for the year 1917 out in time three extra clerks are at work in the office of the city treasurer. There are 25,000 bills to be prepared. City Treasurer Bourke stated this morning that he hoped to get the bills out by Sept. 15 or 15 days sooner than last year.

Coal Contract

Purchasing Agent Maxime Lepine this morning awarded a contract for the supply of 240 tons of egg coal for the Billings street West Sixth street, Pond street, High street, Sycamore street and Lakeview avenue schools, to John P. Quinn. This order is a part of the 240 tons of egg coal for the order, 410 tons of broken coal for the Greenhalge, Varnum and Moody schools will be supplied by all the local merchants collectively and later each dealer will send in the bill for the amount he has supplied, because no one merchant has the necessary supply on hand.

Will Come to Lowell

Mayor O'Donnell this morning received a letter from Rev. Dennis R. Murphy, formerly of this city and now curate at St. Paul's church, Cambridge, to the effect that a delegation of 50 men from Harvard Radio school at Cambridge will come to this city Saturday, the trip to be for pleasure and business combined. The delegation will arrive in Lowell at 2.30 p. m. Most of the men in the delegation are from the southern and western parts of the state and they have never been in Lowell. The tourists will be accompanied by Rev. John J. Ryan, P. R., of St. Paul's church.

Clerk Stephen Flynn returned to his work at city hall this morning after being absent two weeks during which time he was confined to St. John's hospital suffering from pneumonia pneumonia. Mr. Flynn has fully recovered from the illness and his friends in the granite building were pleased to see him

Lowell as it was, as it is, and as it is going to be was portrayed on the South common this afternoon by 2000 children of the playgrounds in the presence of a crowd of parents and friends which covered every inch of available space anywhere near the scene of the production. It was a successful portrayal.

For two months the playground children and their supervisors and teachers had worked unceasingly to round into shape the "excellent" production which was staged this afternoon.

The long soaking rain of last night and early this morning made the grass on the common rather damp but with the appearance of the sun at intervals the discomfort of this feature was mitigated somewhat. On the oval near the band stand where the pageant proper was staged the rain had merely sufficed to lay the dust.

As early as 1.30 visitors began to pour onto the common. Although the pageant was not scheduled to start until 2.15 and as a matter of fact did not really get under way until 2.30, enthusiastic parents and friends of the youthful actors, intent on obtaining a good view of the various scenes, arrived long before the scheduled hour. Even some of the performers themselves were on hand far ahead of time and not a few impromptu rehearsals were staged among groups of children who were to enter the theatrical limelight for the first time on this momentous occasion.

Perhaps the first thing to attract the eyes of the visitors was the stage setting and background of the pageant. The beautiful bandstand of the common formed the nucleus of the setting and from this radiated the other "drops" consisting of pretty young pine and birch trees which had been felled when they had reached the height of their beauty. The birches hid from view the portion of the bandstand facing Eliot street and on either side the pines extended for 20 yards or more. This was the background of the pageant and it is doubtful if even nature herself could have improved on the excellent work of the park department employees.

The Characters Appear

At length the characters began to appear; the younger children accompanied by their supervisors and teachers and already togged in their grotesquely attractive costumes—some of them—and others in costumes whose attractiveness was heightened by the personal beauty of the youthful warriors. A labyrinth of Indians, Puritan maidens, early missionaries, soldiers of '61 and soldiers of '17, presidents and generals, gaily and charming young ladies who were to be symbolic of ethical qualities all wended their way past the astonished spectators to their respective positions "made up."

The principal characters "made up" in the Pilot school. The other children of the Indians the squaws—of the same tribe, presumably—entered with a whoop and gave the grotesque "savage" dances with all the weirdness of real Indian dances. These children were also from the South common.

The Brave Wampanoag

Then came Wampanoag with his tribe of followers. This gentleman was represented by William F. McKay, and he closely rivalled Passaconaway for fierceness. Wampanoag greeted Passaconaway in real Indian fashion and then the latter poured forth his historic speech of welcome. The braves of the two chiefs were evidently overjoyed at the turn of affairs and to show their happiness broke forth into the weirdly attractive snake dance.

At the conclusion of the dance Mr. John Eliot, traveller and missionary, made his appearance and after much evangelistic effort he succeeded in having Wampanoag embrace Christianity and everybody was happy. The finale was a dance of all the characters. It was an excellently carried out production. Alex. Williams made a capable "John Eliot."

Part 2 represented the settlement period of Lowell when the white men began to appear in great numbers and build their homes. To symbolize the character of a real log cabin was erected near the pond and inside sat women around the spinning wheel and butter churn. It was a realistic setting. The children of the North common starred in this part and the leading character, Capt. Ford of Revolutionary days, was portrayed by Thomas F. Pyne, supervisor of the North common playground.

The period before the war was symbolized by children lying in front of the log cabin and Colonial dances were executed with the real gentleness and gracefulness which characterized the dances of that period. Finally the war clouds broke. "The Spirit of '76" was played on the organ and then Capt. Ford and his company armed with real rifles departed for the front. The stirring music of the band materially aided the martial air which this picture created.

Civil War Times

Part 3 showed Lowell as it was in the era of development just previous to the Civil war. President Jackson made a visit to this city at that time and he was ably portended this afternoon by John A. Walsh, Jr. The reception which the president received including the march of the factory girls, was enacted by children of the Chambers street playground and their efforts were rewarded by continual rounds of applause. At the conclusion of this President Jackson gave his now famous speech complimenting the city on its remarkable industrial progress. Then came the cotton dance by the girls which was one of the prettiest dances of the afternoon. Finally the distinguished visitor reviewed the parade held in his honor and with the passing of the troops the scene closed.

With the arrival of Part 4 the pageant approached the era with which many of these present today are very familiar—the Civil war period. The scene opened auspiciously with a stirring bugle call and then the Sixth regiment troops in their beloved blue uni-

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—In presenting Viscount Ishii, special ambassador and head of the Japanese mission to the senate today, Senator Saulsbury of Delaware, president pro tem of the senate and acting in the absence of Vice President Marshall, declared the occasion "symbolizes complete international fraternity which common consciousness of international honor has brought about."

Referring to German propaganda, Senator Saulsbury said evil attempts had been made to breed distrust and hatred among friends of the United States.

"Japan," he continued, "joins our great young nation in plucking anew a continuance of our old friendship which the trouble-makers of the earth have tried hard to interrupt.

"We know how industriously insidious attempts have been made by the Prussian masters of the German people to bring about distrust and hatred in the world. We know what evil attempts they have made to breed distrust and hatred among our friends and we welcome this opportunity to heartily congratulate our old friends who honor us today, that by the capture of Tsing Tan from the German islands in the Pacific, Japan has completely removed from the far eastern world the only threat, as we believe, to peace and prosperity, the only threat to last-

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The spectacle of 15,000 fighting men marching down Fifth avenue—New York's troops for democracy's battle line—France, stirred this great city to the depths today.

Pride, patriotic fervor and the emotions that go with farewells to a soldier, seemed to grip with a common intensity the two millions of people who watched the rank upon rank of khaki swinging by.

The troops, New York state's former National Guard, now the 27th division of the United States army, marched before leaving for their preliminary training at Spartanburg, S. C., so that the city might give them a "send-off" worthy of their ultimate mission. They called forth rounds of cheers that were almost continuous for the more than six hours that it took the division to march from 110th street to Washington square.

Unless it may be the unpublished number already in France this division forms marched past on their way to Baltimore. Perhaps the most enthusiastic applause of the afternoon greeted these young soldiers assembled from various playgrounds. They kept in step with the precision of veterans and the few military movements which they executed were done with a hitch.

The next number was the entrance of Gen. Butler escorted by Mayor Peabody and a company of soldiers. The general, Frederick Pyne, last year colonel of the high school regiment, came marching in on a lively bay which appeared ready to break. His master in the thickest of frays, Mayor Peabody was portrayed by Paul Angelo with real dignity. The mayor welcomed Gen. Butler to the city and the latter made a fitting speech responding to the cheering and the appearance of his attendants, little girls clad in white who seemed the real personification of peace. Prosperity, purchased by Miss Natalie McGee, named the speculators with a real surprise by her graceful and pleasing work. Miss Helen Hickey, as "Plenty," also scored a big hit. Her appearance, a bevy of white clad maidens and the scene was an exceptionally pretty one as the dance ensemble was enacted.

Part 5 of the pageant was that showing Lowell as it is today and giving a hint of what it will be in the future. The military spirit which pervaded Lowell at this time was predominant in this scene and the various principals and attendants did excellent work. The part opened with the entrance of new mothers who were given a modern touch to the scene. Then came the recruiting officers, Pvt. Cross nurses and the various characters who are in the line of duty.

The "British" character, represented by Miss Dorothy Driscoll, showed the real feeling of Lowell at the present time. This portrayal was followed by the "Columbia" by Miss Mary Haggerty, appeared to add to the patriotic element of the scene.

A Splendid Climax

The climax of the pageant came, however, with the appearance of "The Spirit of '76," enacted by the children. These three symbolic figures furnished the basis of the final tableau. All the participants of the pageant were brought forth, the children of the playgrounds, the pageant ended with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by all present. It was an impressive finale.

The affair as a whole was a surprise to the majority of those who witnessed it. It was thought impossible that such results could be accomplished with young children of the city. The pageant, through the efforts of Miss Louise P. Maloney, the playground story teller, the children were told just who and what were the characters which they were to portray and the result was a veritable triumph. The children have learned a lot about their native city, their patriotism has been aroused, and the basis for further work along the same lines as today's has been laid.

To Mrs. Julian B. Keyes must go the major portion of the credit for the success of the undertaking. She selected the affair from its very inception and hardly a day has passed in the last two months but what she has given unsparingly of her time and energy. The supervisors and teachers of the various grounds come next in line for applause for without their help the pageant would have been doomed to failure. The children themselves must not be forgotten, either, for they have spent many a dreary hour on the grounds preparing for the event but they have always been patient. Miss Mary C. Joyce of the North common playground has added to the success of the pageant and has been of great assistance to Mrs. Keyes. Mrs. Sara Swann Gillingham arranged the synopsis of the production and helped the directors to place in the minds of the children just what they were attempting to accomplish.

Supervisor John A. Walsh, Jr., man of the park department has also worked continually looking out for the children, the welfare of the grounds and maintaining a continual interest in the affair. The members of the park commission and, in fact, all who have in any way aided in the success of the production are to be congratulated. They have accomplished something.

Among those present today were Mayor James E. O'Donnell and other members of the municipal council, members of the park commission, Sup't. Korman and a number of others.

The National band, directed by R. A. Griffiths furnished music for the occasion and helped to add to the success of the occasion the success which it was.

Community Dance

Everything is in readiness for Lowell's community dance to be held on the South common this evening. The success of last year's affair has practically assured the outcome of tonight's dance and with fair weather prevailing there should be many thousands of Lowellians dancing on the grass this evening.

The National band and under the direction of R. A. Griffiths will furnish music for the affair and will also give a concert previous to the grand march. The concert will start at 7.30 and the march at 8 o'clock. Mayor and Mrs.

formed the largest number of American troops yet marched down the United States entered the war. Fifth avenue, scene of many historic parades, never before was so packed with humanity as it was today. For five miles two solid lines of people were bunched eight and ten deep against shop windows and houses, bulging a half block at every cross street and half from overflowing into the line of march by a thin but efficient cordon of police. The thoroughfare itself was ablaze with the Stars and Stripes and flags of the allies, while every spectator, it seemed, carried a flag or wore a patriotic emblem.

Gov. Whitman, Mayor Mitchell, city officials, Rear Admiral Fisher and other navy officers and officers of the allies, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Lord Northcliffe, Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, mayors of over 50 New York state cities and foreign consuls, generals, reviewed the parade from the balcony of the Union League club.

The stock market closed at noon in honor of the departing troops.

James E. O'Donnell will lead the march and will be followed by members of the police department and the park commission and invited guests. All men in uniform are earnestly requested to fall in the line.

The program of a concert and dance as arranged by Director Griffiths is as follows:

ARRESTED MAN AND HIS GLASS OF BEER

Liquor Inspectors Palmer and Dwyer in the course of their visitations to the various saloons in the city, about 11.45 o'clock this morning and finding a man who was alleged was drunk, placed him under arrest and took him to the police station. A glass of beer which was in front of the man at the time was also taken to the police station.

CAR SHOP MEN NOT YET ON STRIKE

The officials of the Boston & Maine railroad and representatives of the various crafts employed at the car shops of the company in Billerica and other places are holding a conference in Boston today on the question of an increase in wages as demanded by the employees of the various shops.

A few days ago after their demand for an increase in wages of six cents an hour had been thrown down, the employees of the various car shops took a strike vote and an overwhelming majority decided to leave their work unless the company acquiesced to their demand. The result of the vote was made known to the officials of the road with the result that yesterday afternoon a conference between the officials and representatives of the workmen was called in Boston. At noon today the men were still conferring and no agreement had been reached.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Patrolman Peter P. McManmon made a clever capture about 1.30 o'clock this morning when while passing through Pollard's avenue he detected Joseph Dudek, aged 15 years, with one arm through a rear window of Liggett's Riker-Jaynes drug store in Merrimack street. The young man had his right arm through an opening made by the breaking of a pane of glass, but after hearing the story of the offense, the manager of the store and the defendant, found Dudek guilty and gave him a suspended sentence of one year in jail.

Fined For Selling Soap

Even though cleanliness is next to godliness, a person who conducts a variety store under a permit from the license commission has no right to sell soap, and just for that three storekeepers were haled into court this morning on complaints charging them with violating the conditions of the license by selling soap to Patrolman Thomas P. Sullivan on Sunday. The defendants were Andrew Castles, Albert Larue and Alphonse J. Lamatre and each entered a plea of guilty to a fine which fines of $5 were imposed.

Edward H. Laczabes entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with selling drink. Owing to the fact that he had several clean watches in his possession which he had been trying to sell and could not give a satisfactory explanation as to where he got them Deputy Downey returned the case and the case will be continued until Saturday morning in order that further investigation might be made.

FR. CHIDWICK LAUDS WILSON'S POLICY

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Enthusiastic approval greeted the declaration by Fr. Chidwick, the chaplain of the battleship Maine when she was sunk, yesterday, of the policy of President Wilson in the Foreign Wars of the United States, that, "while we must bless the pope for his sincere and earnest effort to bring to an end the bloody and destructive conflict now raging, we must all concur in the wise, able and conclusive declaration of our own president that now is not the time to talk of peace."

Resolutions were passed making eligible to membership in the organization men of the army and navy who take part in the present war as soon as they reach foreign lands or waters. Another resolution condemned aliens who refuse to become citizens, or to respond to the call to arms, and proposed the passage of laws to compel them to become naturalized or leave the country.

2,250,000 GERMANS ON WESTERN FRONT

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—While the fighting force massed by the central powers on the Russo-Bulgarian front is larger than was generally believed, the greater part of the German army is on the western front according to a statement issued here yesterday by the official bureau of French information.

"According to official information received in Paris from the Russian General staff," the statement says, "there are actually 137 enemy divisions, consisting of 88 German divisions, 41 Austro-Hungarian divisions, four Turkish divisions and four Bulgarian divisions. Of the 88 German divisions, 12 only are active divisions. All others are made up of landwehr and landsturm formations."

"This represents a more considerable force than was generally believed, but is nevertheless much inferior to the German force on the western front, which includes actually 148 divisions, of which more than 80 are opposed to the French."

Indications have appeared that German divisions have been cut down to 15,000 men, and in many cases to 12,000. Accordingly, the French figures indicate that on the western front, in round numbers, at least 800,000 Germans, and probably 1,000,000 face the British, while between 1,000,000 and 1,250,000 oppose the French, at the most a total of 2,250,000 in the west.

On the Russian and Rumanian front the minimum and maximum figures for all the central powers' armies would be about 1,050,000 and 2,000,000. These estimates do not, of course, touch on the Italian, Macedonian or the three Asiatic fronts.

FOR FEDERAL CONTROL OF COAL INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Federal control of the country's coal industry was again today the subject of discussion by the directors of the National Coal association with prospects that an announcement as to whether President Wilson's price scale will be accepted without protest would be forthcoming before the war is over.

The operators are divided into two groups, one counseling acceptance of the government fixed prices and the other urging that the case be taken to the courts. Efforts of the first group are being directed toward winning the others over to its side.

Appeal to Coal Users

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—An appeal to coal users to endeavor to reduce consumption as a wartime measure was issued today by the chamber of commerce of the United States through its committee, which is co-operating with the council of national defense.

"Today coal is a sinew of war," says the appeal, "and he who unnecessarily reduces the country's available stock of coal may curtail the nation's energy in the great industrial conflict in the great concentration of natural energy toward prosecuting the war. Men are not available to over-produce coal to meet extravagant needs. Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit of capacity."

Nothing Helped But Plant Juice

A Lowell Lady Bought a Bottle of Plant Juice and Relief Was Immediate

When the blood is deficient in the number of red corpuscles the patient is said to have anemia. It is often caused by exhausting discharges other than blood which attend many chronic diseases. The treatment should always be restorative and must be especially directed toward improving the blood-making powers. Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, is especially beneficial in anemic conditions. Many have used it with good results. It puts the stomach in perfect condition, causing the food to assimilate, thereby enriching and purifying the blood.

Many local people have been restored to health by the use of Plant Juice since its introduction here, and daily give testimonials as to the benefit received.

Mrs. Anna Vallee, who resides at No. 101 Center street, a popular young lady of Lowell, who has a wide acquaintance here, recently gave the following:

"For over two years I have been troubled with gastric disorders, and my stomach was in such a weak condition that I could not digest my food and it would ferment and cause gas to form; I had headaches, dizzy spells and was weak and nervous; I could not sleep at night, and in the morning would be all tired out. I tried many different medicines, but nothing gave me relief until I started to take 'Your Plant Juice.' That seemed to reach the spot, and put my stomach in the condition; I have a good appetite for my meals, sleep well and have not an ache or pain. I am not troubled with constipation and can do a good day's work without feeling tired. I am glad to recommend Plant Juice Man is at Dover, the Druggist, in Merrimack Square, Lowell, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy."

WILSON ENDORSES FIGHT FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 30.—A letter from President Wilson and a telegram from James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, endorsing the fight of New York state woman suffragists to obtain the enfranchisement of women.

Lowell, Mass.

en through a constitutional amendment at the state elections in November, were read today before the New York state woman suffrage party, in conference here, by Mrs. Norman Delt. Whitcomb, the chairman, President Wilson's letter follows:

"I begin with sincere pleasure of your expression of a growing sentiment in the state of New York in favor of woman suffrage and I shall look forward with the greatest interest to the results of the state conference which you are planning to hold in Saratoga. May I not express the hope that that conference will lead to a very widespread interest in your campaign and that your efforts will be crowned with the most substantial and satisfactory success?"

"I hope that the voters of the state of New York will rally to the support of woman suffrage by a handsome majority. It would be a splendid vindication of the principle of the cause in which we all believe."

Mr. Gerard in his telegram said the great number of women employed in manufacturing trades and commerce have a right to vote on matters which now affect them as vitally as men and that "the war will add to their number." The "quiet, dignified woman" should not be deprived of a right to vote "because of the misbehavior of a reckless minority" of militant suffragettes. Mr. Gerard declared, he said that the "proportion of hot heads among women is not greater than among men."

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ENDS AT MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—Premier Kerensky, in closing the extraordinary national council yesterday, said that although the different political groups had criticized the provisional government, they had shown clearly a desire to arrive at an agreement.

"The provisional government," he declared the premier, "will stand guard over the revolution. It will enter no counter-revolutionary attempts, whatever be their source, for the provisional government is the incarnated will of the whole Russian people. It does not regret having convoked the conference at Moscow, which, although it has not yielded practical results, has allowed all Russian citizens to say frankly what they think necessary for the state."

Premier Kerensky then spoke of the services rendered to the country by the revolutionary democracy, which, he observed, took power at a terrible moment in the life of the state.

"Whoever endeavors to wrest their conquests from the people," he concluded, "will never succeed, for they have now become public property."

THERE IS SOME HOPE THAT OLIVER MOULTON CHADWICK IS STILL ALIVE

According to latest reports from France there is still a chance that Oliver Moulton Chadwick, the Lowell boy who was reported missing last week, has not perished but is probably a prisoner of the Germans.

It has been learned through the state department at Washington that British troops have found Chadwick's biplane intact near Lyons. This gives proof that Chadwick was able to direct his machine at the time of landing and it is obvious that it did not fall headlong to the earth. The most plausible inference to be taken from these facts is that the Lowell aviator is in the hands of the Germans.

Congressman Rogers telegraphed this information to Lowell yesterday afternoon after he had received advice from the state department.

"WINDFALL" APPLES WILL NOT BE LEFT TO ROT—TO BE GIVEN TO POOR

DENINGTON, Aug. 30.—"Windfall" apples will not be left to rot on the ground in the many orchards in this town this year. As a means of food conservation, boy scouts have agreed to a plan suggested by Park Commissioner William E. Mulliken and accepted by fruit growers, whereby the boys will make daily collections of such apples and send them to scout headquarters in Boston for distribution among the poor.

SOLDIER ACCUSED OF GIRL'S MURDER

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Aug. 30.—Robert Warm, of Pottstown, Penn., a private in the 18th United States cavalry, was arrested last night on an indictment returned yesterday by a special grand jury, charging him with the murder of Jennie Hemmingsway, aged 14. The arrest was made in the Franklin county jail, where Warm had been detained since the girl's body was found on the edge of a corn field Aug. 13. The only remark Warm made when informed that he was now formally under arrest was: "That means that I've got to stay here for the county court."

Whether a special session of court will be called will be decided today. Jennie Hemmingsway met her death by strangulation, according to the report of the autopsy. Her body was found after Warm had asked the police to look for her. He said that he had been walking with the girl the night before, but that they had separated when a party of soldiers threatened them.

During the grand jury investigation 6 witnesses, including many soldiers from Fort Ethan Allen, testified.

RAISING FUND FOR THE 101ST INFANTRY

The following is a copy of a letter which the Associate Members, Ninth Regiment, M. N. G., are sending broadcast throughout the eastern part of the state for the purpose raising a fund of $50,000—$17,000 of which is already in hand—for the benefit of the members of the 101st infantry, U. S. A.

Dear Sir:

It appears very evident that the Ninth Regiment infantry, N. G., now the 101st U. S. A. is about to move, and probably their destination is to be France, or in other words, the actual fighting line. They are going in order that democracy shall live; that a continuance of our freedom shall be assured. In a word, they are going to fight for us. A braver set of boys never lived, and that they will give an excellent account of themselves we all have confidence. They are leaving their homes, their relatives, and their friends, but they are going in the highest spirits, and with the strongest determination, and an entire willingness to do their duty as American citizens.

That we have a duty toward these boys goes without saying. Our duty is to follow them in whatever way we can, and do for them and their comfort all that we may know how.

In this connection the executive committee of the Ninth Regiment, Associate Members, feel that we should immediately raise a sum of at least $50,000, $17,000 of which we already have in hand, and we are now appealing to you to make as substantial a contribution to this fund as you feel disposed. Five contributions of $1000 each have been promised in addition to the $17,000 already in hand. This money will be spent under the direction of Col. Edward J. Logan, of the old "Fighting Ninth," or what is now the 101st infantry, U. S. A., and the executive committee of the Ninth Regiment, Associate Members.

All contributions should be sent to the treasurer, Joseph H. O'Neill, president of the Federal Trust company, 58 Devonshire street, Boston.

Yours very truly,

Associate Members, 9th Regiment, N. G.

DECREES DEATH OF BORDEN

Anti-Draft Rally of 5000 French Canadians Warns Canadian Premier

Will Die Resisting Conscription. Bill—Leaders Adopt Solemn Pledge

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—While anti-conscriptionists and supporters of Laurier's "no more men for the front" policy are busy writing to the papers, declaring that there is no feeling against conscription in Quebec province beyond antipathy to a measure that has not been submitted to a referendum, and desiring that all reports of bitterness are designed to misrepresent the French-Canadian, a large assembly, comprising more than 5000 men, gathered in Lafontaine park, the principal open space in the East End (French-Canadian) of this city, and passed the following resolution, the leaders afterward adopting a solemn pledge to die in resisting conscription:

"We, anti-conscriptionists, united in a plenary meeting in Lafontaine park, wish to be in sympathy with the cause of the allies, and we deem it our duty to remain in Canada to augment our national industries so as to produce the necessary food and munitions for the cause of civilization.

"Conscriptionists, who are treacherous enemies, and whose eyes are made solely to look into the bottom of their pockets, seem to want to conspire against the death bill. We, the anti-conscriptionists, must go to the end with our fight against conscription, and we must not obey such a project, but, on the contrary, we must do our duty and obey the law of patriotism. If the conscription bill is enforced, Borden and his men will have to suffer the penalty of death. We wish to tell them they will have time to make a good confession of all they have done since they are in power. Nothing will be neglected by us to execute our project because these men are traitors and handmen, and should be done away with.

"The text of this declaration was afterward given out by a member of the Order of Constitutionals. The crowd of 5000 heartily endorsed it. As indicative of what the authorities think it may be pointed out that hundreds of secret service men are on duty here, the city police not being entrusted with the work of keeping track of the agitators. Every one of the leaders is closely tracked wherever he goes, night or day, and several of them have become so nervous that they have openly declared they will hold no more meetings after today. They will be liable to glare in jail if they do, so the announcement is a timely one. The conscription bill is now law and all its provisions are in full force.

BANDIT HELD UP 40 MEN IN HALL

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—Out of the surreptitious of last evening there came from Somerville the strangest story of the summer season, one that rivals in some respects the famous sea serpent yarns of New England coast fishermen, but it was told in good faith by Patrolman A. J. Fitzpatrick, one of the most reliable men in the Somerville police department.

The story is to the effect that he surprised a lone masked bandit as he was about to relieve between 40 and 50 men of their valuables in old Hadley hall, 1 Broadway, close to the Charlestown line. The men were standing with their hands high above their heads when the officer entered, and the armed robber was ready for the work of collection when Fitzpatrick, according to his story, took a hand in the affair.

Fitzpatrick says a hand-to-hand encounter ensued, in which he disarmed the robber, who plunged headlong through a glass panel, making his escape. Fitzpatrick pursued, but the robber escaped into Cambridge.

Fitzpatrick was unable to give any names of the men in the hall and so far as known none of them made any complaint. He also says he drove them from the place, just what was going on in the place that would attract such a large number of men is not known, but it is a police record that there have been raids in the hall.

In many respects the attempted robbery resembled one that was successfully pulled off in Cambridge a few months ago when a robber made his way into a building near Kendall sq. where a crap game was in progress and cleaned up several hundred dollars with the aid of a revolver.

Fitzpatrick reported to his superior officer that he was standing on Broadway, East Somerville, about 3.30, when he heard someone scream in Hadley hall on the second floor of the old building numbered 1 Broadway. As he went into the door on the street level a man hurried out, quickly followed by another. The officer believes these men were confederates of the robber he later saw upstairs in the hall, standing in front of the 40 or 50 men he had lined up against the wall.

The officer says he was amazed at the sight and at first thought they were going through some physical exercises in an effort to bluff him, as he knew there had been raids in the hall before. But he was quickly made aware that the situation was a real one when he saw the robber with his mask and revolver in hand.

The encounter followed, much to the relief of the men who were so terrified that none of them, according to Fitzpatrick, would aid him, though he yelled for assistance.

An investigation into the affair will be made today and it is likely that some of the men who were in the hall will be asked to explain what was going on at the time the robber made his appearance.

LEANDRE DESJADON WAS NOT AT FAULT

Special to The Sun.

STATE HOUSE, Aug. 30.—After a hearing yesterday afternoon, the highway commissioners decided that Leandre Desjadon of 191 Canal street, Lowell, was not at fault in the automobile accident of July 15, which resulted in the death of his wife.

Unable to make a similar finding in the case of Leonard E. Richards of 712 Suffolk street, whose automobile was in collision with that of Mr. Desjadon, the commission revoked his license to operate in this state. The license of each of the operators was suspended immediately following the accident, but as a result of the commission's decision Mr. Desjadon's will be returned to him immediately.

Both Desjadon and Richards were requested to appear before the commission yesterday and to tell their stories. Richards failed to put in an appearance, but as Mr. Desjadon's story of the accident coincided in every respect with the reports of the commission's investigators, the commission acted, without waiting for him to appear.

Mr. Desjadon testified that about 6.15 on the afternoon of July 15 he was driving down Varnum avenue, approaching Starbird street. When he was part way across the intersecting street, the car operated by Richards suddenly came across the street, apparently in an effort to turn into Starbird street. The cars struck, and Mr. Desjadon received injuries from which she died two days later.

NEW HEADQUARTERS FOR THE RED CROSS

Special to The Sun.

The removal of the headquarters of the Lowell branch and Middlesex county chapter of the American Red Cross from the Whistler House in Worthen street to one of the vacant mills of the Bigelow-Hartford Co. in Market street will take place tomorrow morning and it is expected that the work of the organization at its new quarters will be resumed on Tuesday.

Inasmuch as a number of the American troops are already in France and more are on their way there is considerable work to be done by the organization and with enlarged quarters and better facilities there will be an excellent opportunity to increase the output.

The new quarters of the organization can be reached through the main entrance to the plant on Market street, midway between Shattuck and Palmer streets. It is the intention to have the workroom and offices open every day excepting Sundays, holidays and Saturday afternoons.

The quarters to be occupied are on the ground floor and an information desk will be located near the entrance.

Housewives of this city now look forward to Biddy Eys' tips on cooking and culinary art which appear each week in the Sunday Supplement of The Sun, published each Saturday.

PAY OF U. S. FIGHTERS HIGHEST IN WORLD

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—American soldiers and sailors have the distinction of being not only the best clothed, best shod and best fed in the world, but are the highest paid of any country. This is true in every grade from private to major general and from third-class seaman to admiral.

In civil life England often pays its public servants two or three times what the United States pays men occupying similar positions, but not so in the army and navy.

England draws her officers mostly from the ranks of the nobility and the well-to-do and their salaries are not supposed to be sufficient to support them.

In times of peace the second sons of Englishmen, who are not supposed to inherit titles or property unless the first son dies, seek positions in the army and navy, and their remittances from home make up the deficiency in their salaries.

In Germany the officers are all from the ruling class, and no German officer is allowed to marry unless he can prove that his wife has sufficient income to support his station in life.

In addition to their pay American soldiers and sailors frequently receive additional allowances and extra pay for foreign service.

The present pay of United States soldiers and officers is as follows:

Grade	Pay per year
Private	$238 to $438.20
Corporal	$438.20 to $489.60
Sergeant	$489.60 to $570
Second lieutenant	$570 to $600

Lieutenant colonel	$690 to $720

"MINNIE" SOME GIRL IN FRONT LINE TRENCHES

BEHIND BRITISH LINES IN FRANCE, August — (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—"Minnie" is a very forward young lady who lives as a rule in German front line trenches. She has no pretensions at all to beauty. She is for use, not for ornament. She is a trench gun, and her projectiles rammed one of plum pudding attached to sticks. They fly very irregularly but burst very regularly in that part of No-Man's Land farthest removed from Minnie's temporary lodging.

Just before the latest push around Ypres, there was a particular Minnie located a few miles from Ypres, which was more than usually a nuisance. The British trench was not well sited, nor very well protected. Consequently when Minnie was active, she made things very uncomfortable for the occupants of that British trench. Moreover, she had no regular habits, she worked on no plan, ladylike she did just about as she wished.

The young British subalterns hated her with a persistent, pervasive hatred, and conceived many schemes for her undoing, but to no avail. But one night, chance brought into the trench a very irritable old artillery officer, just as Minnie was active. One of Minnie's puddings soaked his boots, and thereby aroused in him a grim determination to devote himself to her destruction.

He stayed in the trench all that night, studying Minnie's location and characteristics, and on the morning he returned, followed by his orderly uncoupling wire as he walked. At the trench end of the wire a temporary telephone was fixed. The far end of the wire led back a mile and a half to a battery of field artillery.

Along about noon Minnie opened up for her midday strafe. Promptly the artillery officer verified his observations of the night before and spoke a few figures into the telephone. A minute later a loud boom announced the arrival of British shell just across on the other side of No-Man's Land. The British officer swore softly, and spoke a few more figures into the telephone. The first shell had been at least thirty yards off. The second was perhaps twenty yards on the other side. Again the officer spoke into the telephone, and for the third time the gun spoke. "Bully's Eye" sang the officer into the telephone, and packed up his belongings in business-like fashion. Minnie was deceased.

There are 1,000,000 small farms in Rumania and only a few thousand large ones; but the few big landowners have more land than the many small ones. The average size of the 1,000,000 small farms is eight acres, while that of 4471 large ones is 2200 acres.

VIEW OF TRIESTE

TRISTE, OBJECTIVE OF ITALIAN ATTACKS, IS AUSTRIA-HUNGARY'S CHIEF PORT

TAKING ITALIAN WOUNDED DOWN MOUNTAIN

One of these two pictures shows a panoramic view of the city of Trieste, against which the Italian attacks are aimed. Loss of this city will be a very severe blow to the Austrian cause. The other picture illustrates the manner in which Italian wounded are carried by cable down the steep mountains which have barred the Italian way to Trieste. This city is the principal seaport of Austria-Hungary and the most important depot for the trade of the empire on the Adriatic. It is a bishop's see, the seat of an archbishop, and a school of navigation and many other schools and educational institutions. There are also extensive manufacturing establishments. Trieste existed in Roman days, but became important only about the middle of the eighteenth century, when its growth was fostered by the Empress Maria Theresa.

JAMES MAHONEY'S NAME ON ROLL OF HONOR

At yesterday afternoon's session of the exemption board of division 2 another name was added to the roll of honor, James Mahoney, 21 years, and residing at 42 Marion street. There were five others who successfully passed the physical test, but who filed exemption claims. These men were as follows:

Henry C. Archibald, 27 years, 22 Walker st.
Donald Mackay, 23 years, 465 Wilder st.
John J. O'Brien, 23 years, 18 Rogers st.
Albert J. Blair, 22 years, 100 Willie st.

George A. Crawford, 31 years, 1073 Middlesex st.

Yesterday's examination brought to a close the fourth list of 170 men. In all 680 men had been summoned to appear and of that number only 23 have been certified for the National Army. Saturday a final effort will be made to recruit eight additional men and thus bring the division's quota to a close. Fifty-eight men will appear for examination.

The Wrong Name

In the report of the exemption board of division 1 published yesterday the name of John F. Jewett of 37 Pleasant street was inadvertently published among those who filed no claims for exemption. The name should have been John F. Jerrard, 3 Pleasant street, who passed a perfect examination and waived exemption.

STRIKE MAY CAUSE MAINE COAL FAMINE

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 30.—Coal shipments to this port are tied up by a strike of 125 employees of the Portland Terminal company and the Maine railroad. The men went out Monday.

Public service officials said yesterday that if the trouble was not settled soon, a coal shortage in this state for the winter was probable. The strike was called to compel the reinstatement of a foreman, who was discharged by the railroad company.

An official of the Longshoremen's union is expected to arrive tomorrow from Boston but the men say their grievance is not a matter that concerns the union. Attempts by the chamber of commerce to bring about a settlement have proved futile.

RIOT AT NEW YORK OPEN AIR MEETING

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The most serious street disturbance this city has experienced since 1914 occurred here last night at an open air meeting of the Friends of Irish Freedom. Several men and women were arrested. The police had to fight their way through a mob of about 1000 men, many of whom were armed with clubs and stones.

The police had to fight their way through a mob of about 1000 men, many of whom were armed with clubs and stones. The police had to fight their way through a mob of about 1000 men, many of whom were armed with clubs and stones.

Stephen Johnson, organizer of the Friends of Irish Freedom, and John D. Moore, former secretary, were among those arrested. The Friends of Irish Freedom have been holding nightly meetings at Broadway and 33rd street, but last night when Moore and a number of other speakers reached the corner they found a recruiting meeting in progress and they moved down to the 33rd street corner. The crowd which had assembled at 33rd street to hear the "Friends" paid little heed to the young officers for recruits and when Moore and the others of the party appeared they followed him to the new meeting place.

Meantime the crowd had grown until the police estimated that fully 5000 persons were packed in the street. Johnson rose to speak. He referred to the recruiting party as an "Anglo-Saxon plot of Mayor Mitchell and the board of magistrates to throttle free speech" and defied the police to stop the meeting.

A policeman walked quietly up to the platform and when Johnson began to speak he was under arrest, and Johnson quickly shouted the fact to the crowd. He urged them to keep quiet.

Shawn Conway, a speaker, talked only a few minutes when he was arrested. When Conway was removed from the stand, Moore is said to have arisen, and waving an American flag began to speak. He drew particular attention to Great Britain. He was arrested and the crowd grew belligerent. A woman leaped to the platform and, shouting, she threatened to launch into an impassioned plea for free speech.

Another woman, who gave her name to the police as Catherine Curran, took the platform and immediately the crowd began to cheer the speaker. Miss Curran tried to speak, but her voice was drowned by the crowd. She was finally escorted from the stand and placed under arrest.

The crowd became so turbulent that a call was sent for police reserves and the police began to clear the area. The crowd began to cheer the speaker. Miss Curran tried to speak, but her voice was drowned by the crowd. She was finally escorted from the stand and placed under arrest.

VISITORS SOAKED AT CAMP DEVENS

The heaviest shower experienced since building operations were begun on the camp at Ayer, broke over the camp at Devens yesterday afternoon at about five o'clock and in less than half an hour the streets were rivers and pools were everywhere. There was a great influx of Plattsburg officers during the day and these, of course, included Lowell boys. The officers were accompanied by relatives and friends and portions of the camping ground were crowded when the storm broke. It was a case of the minority rather than the majority escaping a soaking. It was a torrential rain in all that the word implies and many of the visitors had to endure it in their automobiles as there was no other shelter.

The writer, standing in the garage just beyond the square in Ayer and waiting for a new tire to take the place of one that gave up the ghost just as the shower started, counted the machines going to and from Camp Devens, about a mile and half away, and found that they averaged more than two a minute. About all the machines carried soldiers. It was observed, too, that a great many of the soldiers had their own machines and it was later learned that they will keep their machines at Ayer during their accommodations there.

Yesterday four small offices were erected near the entrance of the cantonment for the convenience of the officers who were arriving. The officers' quarters were not ready and a large number of them were placed in the company barracks. Some of them who did not bring their own blankets had to sleep on the ground. The rush has swamped the men in charge of assignments.

A company of engineers from Mainz arrived in camp during the afternoon. Plattsburg men for France.

Two hundred Plattsburg graduates, probably New Englanders, will be assigned to the 26th division and sent to France, it was indicated yesterday.

Major Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the division, declined to make a definite announcement, but admitted that he had been led to believe that these men would be assigned to his division in the immediate future.

INCREASE IN LOSS OF BRITISH SHIPS

LONDON, Aug. 30.—An increase in the number of British vessels sunk last week by mines or submarines is shown by the weekly admiralty statement issued last night. Fifteen vessels of more than 1000 tons were sent to the bottom, as compared with 15 the previous week, and five vessels of less than 1000 tons, as against three the previous week.

No fishing vessels were sunk. The summary of the statement follows:

GERMANY'S WAR PLANS KNOWN TO RUSSIA

PETROGRAD, Aug. 30.—Germany's military preparation was known to the Russian war ministry which also was aware that Germany contemplated a declaration of war in 1918 and again in 1919, according to testimony given yesterday by Gen. Michelson at the trial of Gen. Soukhomlinoff, former minister of war, for high treason. The witness was the military attaché of the Russian embassy in Berlin from 1905 to 1911. He swore that he had informed the Russian war office of Germany's military activity.

The president of the court asked Gen. Michelson what his power Germany proposed to ally herself in 1918 against Russia. The witness asked permission to reply to the president only and the request was granted.

Lemons Beautify! Make Quarter Pint of Lotion, Cheap

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white.

Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost of one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cream. Be sure to get into the lemon juice so no pulp will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

NO MORE WELCOME IN BOX CAR THAN AT LAWN PARTY

A real live skunk in a freight car with no authority to be there was the predicament which an agent of the Lowell Humane society was called on to untangle yesterday. The car was in Jackson street ready to be loaded by shippers of the Humane life Co.

When the door of the car was opened by one of the employees of the company the little visitor gave him a lusty greeting and it was easy to see from his actions that the skunk was in no mood for playfulness. It was found that the animal's back had been broken and in order to relieve his suffering and to allow the man to enter the car a 32 calibre revolver was brought into play and the animal shot.

Ladies! Why Keep Corns?

Lift a corn or callus right off without one bit of pain.

Yes, you truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet, without one bit of pain.

A genius in Cincinnati discovered freezono, an other compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of this freezono upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezono or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness. Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus echo twice.

WILSON'S REPLY TO THE POPE

President Wilson's reply to the proposals for peace made by Pope Benedict XV, is another able document that sets forth with great force our benevolent and disinterested objects in this war.

The president in the most unequivocal terms states that a restoration of the conditions that existed before the war would not safeguard the world against a reassertion of the German ambition to dominate the world.

The record of the German military power leaves no doubt on that point. With the autocrats of Germany the Allies cannot deal. With the power that regards treaties as mere "scraps of paper" there can be no reliance upon any contract or guarantee it might give. In other words, the Allies as President Wilson puts it, must have such guarantees from the German people liberated from the yoke of the Prussian junkers.

This is made clear in the following statement:

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves, as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting."

That is an appeal to the German people to get rid of the kaiser and his gang and a practical hint that peace will follow upon the most favorable terms for the German people. The president lays down a test for the acceptability of any peace plan that may be presented.

It must be based, according to the president, upon the faith of all the peoples involved, the people of each nation acting in their sovereign capacity and not through an ambitious or intriguing government. Hence, according to the president's statement, the war must go on pending some new action by the peoples of the Central Powers.

As the Entente Allies endorsed President Wilson's stand for world democracy and the freedom of subject peoples, it is quite likely that they will also endorse this reply of the president to the appeal of Pope Benedict. Thus the Allies have made their position clear. It is now up to the Central Powers to state their terms. They have not as yet done so although they are evidently anxious to have an early peace. But they may as well realize now that they cannot have peace on conditions that will leave the German military power in a condition to recuperate and at any time in the future to throw the world or any great part of it into deadly strife. The peace, whatever it shall be, must be based upon "justice and fairness and the common rights of humanity."

GERMAN HIRLINGS

The American government has consistently refused passports to socialists to attend European conferences at which the German game was to be played. But there is every indication in the disquieting news from Russia that we have unwittingly allowed a plague of trouble-makers to be exported from the East Side of New York to Petrograd—and at German expense.

One of the last cables from the Russian capital said out of over 1000 Russians who formerly lived in New York and have returned to their native country, only one is openly supporting the existing government. Most of the rest have joined the vicious anarchistic elements seeking to plunge the country into a wild maelstrom of disorder.

The Germans are already benefiting by the breakdown of the Russian armies. If government under the capable leadership of Kerensky is overthrown, the situation will be dark indeed.

With the Germans advancing upon the capital, with anarchy at home, with news concerning America's part in the war distorted and falsified by men recently from New York there will be dire danger of a weary people making a peace with the Kaiser.

And that is probably exactly what the East Side New Yorkers want, and what they were paid to bring about.

It has been their triumphant announcement that one of the things they learned in America was how to conduct a strike. Apparently they are ready to lead a strike against all pro-Russian government so Germans may get peace on their eastern front.

The unanimity with which these men from New York have joined the Bolsheviks is suspicious. Presumably they left Russia because it was impossible to live under the autocrats. Presumably they returned to enjoy the same liberty they found in America. But, if that is the case, they would be doing everything possible to hold up the hands of the government. Instead they are doing everything possible to break down the opposition to Germanism and kaiserism.

Why?

The conclusion is inescapable that these men are nothing but German agents sent to Russia for the very work they are now doing.

It would seem there is work for Uncle Sam's secret service in New York. There should be a searching investigation into the whole procedure by which trouble-makers were financed in their trip to Russia, find out who paid the bills and we will discover some of the men who have secretly, but none the less boldly, been fighting America right on American soil.

LET THE CZAR VOTE

Former Czar Nicholas has asked permission to vote in the coming elections, which are to determine the character of the new Russian government. So have the former grand dukes and grand duchesses.

If the revolutionary gentlemen now directing the destinies of Russia were to ask our advice, we'd say, "By all means, let 'em vote." To enfranchise these personages who formerly played so big, predatory and disastrous a part in Russian history would be more than a merely gracious and generous act. It would provide a rare spectacle of true democracy.

Picture the former czar of all the Russias, walking into a voting booth and casting his ballot just like any of the 130,000,000 people whose fate he lately held in his hand. Picture the Russian grand dukes, the haughtiest and most exclusive class on earth, lining up with peasants whom they used to look upon as nothing more than cattle, and realizing that their votes counted no more than the votes of those same peasants.

It would be fine for the former royalty and fine for their former subjects. It would emphasize the fact of basic human equality as no written Declaration of Independence could ever do. In would have a salutary effect on aristocracy in general, and would put new dignity into the souls of common men and women.

This interesting request, by the way, looks like a good omen for the success of the revolution. When the royal family asks for citizenship in the new republic, it must be convinced that the republic's a sure thing.

EAT POTATOES

One important foodstuff, at least, is going to be cheap. Some dealers are predicting that potatoes will soon sell much lower than at present. They will hardly average $1.50 a bushel, at the highest, in the fall and winter. That is joyful news to consumers who remember last winter's prices.

There is a plentiful supply. The season's crop is said to be more than 100,000,000 bushels in excess of the average, which means that the ordinary family will have about five bushels more than usual.

Wherefore, eat potatoes! There is no food that's more wholesome and nourishing. We can't live on potatoes alone—they're almost pure starch, and we need proteins and fats, too. But given a moderate amount of meat, dairy products and cereal foods, potatoes will fill the remaining gap better than any other vegetable. It is not an accident that potatoes have long been the main stand-by of Ireland, and that they were credited with saving Germany winter before last, when other crops failed.

By eating plenty of potatoes we can save wheat and meat. We can lower our cost of living and make our total supply of foodstuffs go further among ourselves and our allies. Every time we use potatoes to save the bread, we're helping to win the war.

And there's no hardship about it. Just remember how delicious those potatoes tasted last winter when a mess cost about half a dollar, and the indulgence was a rare treat. They're as good now as they were then.

The Mail He Didn't Bring
The arrival of the mail is an event in the lives of those who, far from the madding crowd, spend a few weeks by the surfing sea. At one North Shore hotel this summer the registrar showed guests from 25 different states, Canada, Cuba and Australia. You can imagine what a gathering surged about the foyer when the time drew near for the mailman to pull in from the distant village where the postoffice was located.

One evening not long ago the old horse of the carrier was seen plodding up the hill and from all directions was a gathering of the clan. To this expectant group sauntered the mail carrier.

"Look's though we might have a tempest," he held as he climbed away at a quick of tobacco. No one replied. All continued to look expectant. "Seen a cat?" continued the carrier, ruminatively. Continued silence from the guests. At last one young woman of course, could stand the suspense no longer.

"But where's the mail?" she demanded.

"The carrier looked blank and alarmed."
"Hanged if I didn't forget to put the bag in," he stammered.
"But you can't come up here for continued the woman, thoroughly indignant young woman, inspired by the thoughts of that tender mislaid white mouse." "Dummed if I know," said the carrier as he fled from the mob.

CLUB LAFAYETTE HAS ANNUAL OUTING

The annual outing for the members of Club Lafayette and their friends took place this afternoon at the Marlborough-Cromwell in Tyngsboro, the affair being attended by about 150 people.

The excursionists left the quarters of the club in upper Merrimack street at 12:30 o'clock, the trip to the neighboring town being made in automobiles, graciously furnished by the members of the organization. Upon reaching the grounds a buffet luncheon was served and it was followed by outdoor events of all kinds including the traditional baseball game between the married and unmarried men, etc. At 3 o'clock a shore dinner was served and the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to sports.

The return trip was started late in the afternoon and this evening open house for those who attended the outing will be held and during the evening a varied entertainment program will be given by those responsible for the success of the outing were the board of directors headed by President Ernest J. Dupont.

NEW YORK CITY HONORS 30,000 GUARDSMEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Nearly 30,000 officers and men who once made up the National Guard of New York but are now designated the 27th division, sat down to dinner last night as the guests of the city and the nation.

The dinner was the second event in the three-day fete of farewell arranged by a citizens' committee. The dinner was served in every camp and armory last night, the hostesses for the occasion being 100 women prominent socially, who kindly organized the festivities when the bugle sounded the march call in Van Cortlandt park, the most important mobilization point. From there they were driven to all associates and it did not fail to cure in any case."

If not obtainable at your druggist's send $1.00 to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and he will mail direct a package of Favorite Prescription Tablets.

Mrs. E. C. Billings of 19 Girard ave., Springfield says: "Some years ago, after my first child came I was in a very bad condition. I was all-rundown, my blood was very bad and I was miserable—got very weak. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery. These medicines gave me wonderful relief—built me up and purified my blood. I also took 'Pleasant Pellets' and found them equally as good."

"Dr. Pierce's medicines are all of the very best and I can heartily recommend these remedies to any one wanting, or in need of help."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original Little Liver Pills. These tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules—the smallest and easiest to take. Made up of May apple, the dried juice of the leaves of aloe and the root of Jalap. Almost every drug store in this country sells these vegetable pellets in vials.

Mrs. Maye Martin, who lives at 6 Chaffin st., Framingham, says: "Some time ago I was suffering with women's weakness so that I was scarcely able to do my work. A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I took a couple of bottles with splendid results. I gladly recommend this medicine for woman's ailments."

the other camps and armories to extend the hospitality of the city to every command. The dinner, which included an elaborate menu, was followed in each instance by excellent entertainment.

Orders for the send-off parade today were issued last night by Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan. The troops will enter Fifth ave. at 11:00 street and march the entire length of that thoroughfare. The parade will be reviewed by Gov. Whitman and state officials in front of the Union League club, while Mayor Mitchel and city officials will review the soldiers from the public library. The day has been declared a general holiday. Stock and commodity exchanges, the municipal offices and many stores will remain closed all day.

Big Military Parade
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—New York bade farewell today to the former national guardsmen, who the 27th division, U.S.A., when over 25,000 soldiers marched down Fifth avenue from 110th street to Washington square before leaving for their training camp at Spartanburg, S. C.

They began their march about 10 o'clock it was said the great arch at Washington square probably would be casting its shadow far across the public library square long before the last regiment passed the cheering crowds.

A war time tinge was added to the parade in the orders of Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, who commanded that the men march with fixed bayonets. The twenty-second engineers with Cornelius Vanderbilt commanding, led the parade. The march and business houses generally closed for the occasion.

$350,000,000 FOR U. S. DESTROYERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Wilson approved yesterday estimates of the navy department for the expenditure of an additional $350,000,000 for new destroyers. The project will be laid before congress immediately by Secretary Daniels.

Provision will be sought to use $225,000,000 of the total appropriation for construction or purchase and expansion of engine and subsiding plants.

The present destroyer building capacity of the country is fully engaged on contracts already given. To reach new labor centers where the skillful men can be found, it is known, it is indicated the new engine-building plants proposed will be placed in the interior of the country.

The navy department announcing the president's approval says: "The general board of the navy, the chief of operations and a special board on the submarine menace are agreed that, at present, the construction of a maximum number of destroyers is the most desirable material development for the navy, and a vital military necessity."

The department has never made public the number of destroyers now building or the additional numbers contemplated in that new project. It is known, however, that when vessels now under construction have all been completed, which will be during 1918, the navy will have a destroyer force comparable to that of any power, while the new project will give the United States the strongest destroyer flotilla in the world.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Americans returning from Canada may bring free of duty $100 worth of canned goods and other foodstuffs under a ruling announced today by the treasury department. Mrs. Frank H. Cafferty, of Providence, R. I., says: "If all young mothers would use Castoria it will bring up their child. My nurse and doctor can also tell what your Castoria can do."

Howard A. Banks, of Hickory, N. C., says: "Your Castoria is the only physic we ever give our three babies. The fact that we use it promptly is probably the reason we never have to use any other."

Mrs. A. J. Nelson, of Waco, Texas, says: "Enclosed you will find a picture of 'Our little Castoria boy.' When a week old I ordered your Castoria for him, and I have never been up a night with him since."

Mrs. Eva Ott Mehn, of Jersey City, N. J., says: "I attribute the present excellent condition of my baby to your Castoria which he has been using since he was three weeks old. I have not lost a night's sleep in seven months."

MANAGER MCGRAW FINED $1000 AND CENSURED

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—John McGraw, manager of the New York baseball club, was yesterday fined $1000, censured and reprimanded by the board of directors of the National league for approving an interview, subsequently published, containing an attack upon John K. Tener, president of the league.

This action was taken as the result of the demand for an investigation of the case by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' association of America, after McGraw had signed a statement repudiating the interview when brought before the league upon charges filed by President Tener.

The finding of the board, as announced yesterday's session, states that McGraw did not make the statements published in the interview. Nevertheless, he technically approved it, without having been given an opportunity to suppress or correct it, he failed to do so.

McGraw is held responsible upon the ground that he authorized and in- al- luded the statements contained in the interview when he returned the original manuscript with the remark that it was "all right."

SURPRISE IN STORE FOR LOWELL HORSEMEN

Lowell horsemen and Lowell horses will participate in the horse races to be held during a fair in Portsmouth, N. H., beginning Sept. 5. The following Lowell horses will be shipped to Portsmouth either today or tomorrow: "Johnny Brown," owned by A. G. Titus; "Foxy Grandpa," by E. Daigle and "Bobby Todd," the property of Jack Maguire.

There are two fast horses here, or hereabouts, that are strangers to Lowell and it looks as if there were a surprise in store for the local talent. The horses are owned by Mr. Brown of the Vannaland farm in Tyngsboro and were bred in the state of Maine. One is a pacer and the other a trotter and although Mr. Brown is somewhat reticent as to their ability, men who know the horses say they have speed to burn. One man from the Pine Tree state says the pacer is a wonder, an ice horse and it is probably on the ice that the local talent will get its surprise.

Asked by the writer if he intended to race his horses this fall, Mr. Brown said: "I am too busy to think of horse racing just now, but both of my horses are in the pink of condition. I have a big farm on my hands and I will have about all I can do for some weeks to come. By the way, I have more than less leisure in the winter and if there is any ice racing I will take a hand. They are both good ice horses, especially the pacer, and I am a great lover of ice racing."

COAL OPERATORS MAY FIGHT THE GOVERNMENT IN THE COURTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Directors of the National Coal association meeting here to discuss government control of their industry, were unable yesterday to agree as to whether they will accept without protest the scale of prices fixed for their product by President Wilson.

Two distinct factions, it was learned, have developed in the association—one willing to accept the situation and the other seeking an excuse to fight the government in the courts. The operators who are ready to sell at the prices named are among the larger producers and those who are showing opposition are representing largely the smaller coal mines, whose costs of production are high.

BELIEF THAT KERENSKY IS KITCHENER

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The curious and widespread belief in England that Kerensky is Kitchenier, the belief that Kerensky is Kitchenier, "Everybody in London is saying so," writes a correspondent to the right-hand column of the paper in reply points out that Kerensky is a young man of thirty, but remarks that this fact probably will not weigh much with the people who like to believe this kind of thing.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The seventh season of vaudeville will open at the D. F. Keith theatre Monday night at 8 o'clock, with a bill which will be interesting in the extreme. Many of the best acts obtainable in this country have been booked by Manager Keith, and a series of these will be presented at the opening.

In preparation for the season the theatre has been getting a thorough cleaning. Much of the delicate tinting has been gone over and the men have worked for the past few weeks in all parts of the house. The stage will have new appointments, and patrons may be assured of receiving the very best in vaudeville and service. This has always been the watchword with the Keith theatres, and it is just as true of Lowell as it is elsewhere.

Tickets for the opening week went on sale this morning at the box office, and the subscription list is now open for the entire season. Prices will be practically the same as last year, with "Friday or two" a play that was only released for stock and is being presented for the first time in any stock east in the east. Elsie Ferguson, who has since made her debut in motion pictures, scored a wonderful triumph in this play, both in Boston and New York during the past two seasons. The piece offers ample opportunity to every regular member of the Players to display his or her real talent and seems to be the first of many excellent selections which Director Weston is sure to make during the coming season. Play tickets are on sale daily. Subscription open. Tel. 261.

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Whitford Wellington, the new leading actress, scored the Miss Wellington who are to open their third season of stock at the Opera House on Labor day, is a young woman whose charm and personal ability has quickened the interest of the recognized theatrical critics of the country. Besides being a stock actress of more than ordinary merit, she possesses an excellent singing voice, which the management introduces her in musical comedy. Kendal Weston, whose judgment on matters theatrical, carries conviction with it, readily placed the Miss Wellington in the lead of the new company. The opening attraction of the season is a sparkling comedy drama by Hubert Potheer called "Shirley Kaye," a play that was only released for stock and is being presented for the first time in any stock east in the east. Elsie Ferguson, who has since made her debut in motion pictures, scored a wonderful triumph in this play, both in Boston and New York during the past two seasons. The piece offers ample opportunity to every regular member of the Players to display his or her real talent and seems to be the first of many excellent selections which Director Weston is sure to make during the coming season. Play tickets are on sale daily. Subscription open. Tel. 261.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK

The Famous Players Film company are presenting at the Canobie Lake Park theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, William J. Locke's celebrated novel and play, "The Morals of Marcus," with Marie Doro in the leading role.

Had Mr. Locke expressly written his famous novel for Miss Doro, he could not have improved upon the theme or the role with which she has so opportunely, charmingly congenial to the talents and wisdom of the youthful star. The picturesque oddity and originality of the play is further enhanced by the superb acting, the beauty and captivating personality of Miss Doro. Her delicate beauty and appealing tenderness, make her an ideal interpreter of the role of Marcus. The entire supporting cast is exceptionally well chosen and in perfect harmony with the elaborate settings, provide a film story that will not only be entertaining but long remembered.

PLAYHOUSE

The "Sunny South" company is due at the Playhouse, matinee and night, Labor day. It is composed of about twenty-five colored people, including many of the highest caliber and most versatile performers in their respective specialties. There are cap- tivating dancing, musical, and variety acts, and plenty of sweet, catchy music. There will be lots of fun and clever vaudeville and a "hot" orchestra and a band and orchestra. The "Kootown" parade takes place at noon.

ASKS LEGISLATION FOR SOLDIERS TO VOTE

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Aug. 30.—In the interest of soldiers—thousands of them—who may be deprived of their right to vote unless some special legislation is enacted to prevent such a thing, A. Franklin Priest, clerk of the Haverhill court, addressed a telegram to Governor Samuel W. McCall, which was received here late yesterday afternoon. The telegram is as follows:

"The soldiers who have so bravely volunteered their services to our country are practically disfranchised in the coming primaries under our present system and laws of party enrollment. Inasmuch as the soldiers vote unless they go back home and be enrolled, which in most instances would be an impossibility.

"I believe that you will agree with me that this situation should be immediately remedied. I know that the sentiment of the people throughout the state is in favor of such a remedy. That action be taken at once. A Roman soldier had the inalienable right to vote wherever he might be and the soldiers should be so with our Massachusetts soldiers.

"I most respectfully request that you consider the situation and call a special session of the legislature so that a law may be enacted allowing all Massachusetts citizens in the military service to register and vote in the coming primaries, at the camps or wherever they are located, if they so desire."

It was said at the state house later that the Massachusetts soldiers would not be permitted to participate in the primaries, except by permission of the federal government, under whose jurisdiction they are now assembled at various camps.

FR. CHIDWICK LAUDS WILSON'S POLICY

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Enthusiastic approval of the declaration by Fr. Chidwick, the chaplain of the battleship Maine when she was sunk, at a meeting yesterday of Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, that "while we must bless the pope for his sincere and earnest effort to bring to an end the bloody and destructive conflict now raging, we must all concur in the wise, able and conclusive declaration of our own president that now is not the time to talk of peace."

Resolutions were passed making eligible to membership in the organization men of the army and navy who take part in the present war as soon as they reach foreign lands or waters. Another resolution condemned aliens who refuse to become citizens, or to respond to the call to arms, and proposed the passage of laws to compel them to become naturalized or leave the country.

2,250,000 GERMANS ON WESTERN FRONT

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—While the fighting force massed by the central powers on the Russo-Rumanian front is larger than was generally believed, the greater part of the German army is on the western front according to a statement issued here yesterday by the official bureau of French information.

"According to official information received in Paris from the Russian general staff," says the statement, "there are actually 137 enemy divisions, consisting of 88 German divisions, 42 Austro-Hungarian divisions, four Turkish divisions and four Bulgarian divisions. Of the 88 German divisions, 12 only are active divisions. All others are made up of landwehr and landsturm formations."

"This represents a more considerable force than was generally believed, but is nevertheless much inferior to the German force on the western front, which includes actually 148 divisions, of which more than 90 are opposed to the French."

Indications have appeared that German divisions have been cut down to 15,000 men, and in many cases to 12,000. Accordingly, the French figures indicate that on the western front, in round numbers, at least 800,000 Germans, and probably 1,000,000 face the British, while between 1,000,000 and 1,200,000 face the French, at the most a total of 2,250,000 in the west.

On the Russian and Rumanian front the minimum and maximum figures for all the central powers' divisions would be about 1,550,000 and 2,000,000. These estimates do not, of course, touch on the Italian, Macedonian or the three Asiatic fronts.

FOR FEDERAL CONTROL OF COAL INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Federal control of the country's coal industry was again today the subject of discussion by the directors of the National Coal association with prospects that an announcement as to whether President Wilson's price scale will be accepted without protest will be forthcoming before the war is over.

The operators are divided into two groups, one counseling acceptance of the government fixed prices and the other urging that the case be taken to the courts. Efforts of the first group are being directed toward winning the others over to its side.

Appeal to Coal Users
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—An appeal to coal users to endeavor to reduce consumption as a wartime measure was issued today by the chamber of commerce of the United States through its committee, which is co-operating with the council of national defense.

"Today coal is a sinew of war," says the appeal, "and he who unnecessarily reduces the country's available stock of coal may curtail the nation's energy in the great industrial conflict in the great concentration of natural energy toward prosecuting the war. Men are not available to open new coal mines to meet extravagant needs. Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit of capacity."

Nothing Helped But Plant Juice

A Lowell Lady Bought a Bottle of Plant Juice and Relief Was Immediate

When the blood is deficient in the number of red corpuscles the patient is said to have anemia. It is often caused by exhausting discharges other than blood which attend many chronic diseases. The treatment should always be restorative and must be especially directed toward improving the blood-making powers.

Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, is especially beneficial in anemic conditions. Many have used it with good results. It puts the stomach in perfect condition, causing the food to assimilate, thereby enriching and purifying the blood.

Many local people have been restored to health by the use of Plant Juice since its introduction here, and daily give testimonials as to the benefit received.

Mrs. Annie Vallee, who resides at No. 101 Center street, a popular young lady of Lowell, who has a wide acquaintance here, recently gave the following:

"For over two years I have been troubled with gastric disorders, and my stomach was in such a weak condition that I could not digest my food and it would ferment and cause gas to form; I had headaches, dizzy spells and was weak and nervous; I could not sleep at night, and in the morning would be all tired out. I tried many different medicines, but nothing gave me relief until I started to take your Plant Juice. That seemed to reach the spot, and put my stomach in fine condition; I had a good appetite for my meals, sleep well and have not any ache or pain. I am not troubled with indigestion and can do a good day's work without feeling tired. I am glad to recommend Plant Juice."

The Plant Juice Man is at Dow's, the Druggist's, in Merrimack Square, Lowell, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

WILSON ENDORSES FIGHT FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 30.—A letter from President Wilson and a telegram from James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, endorsing the fight of New York state woman suffragists to obtain the enfranchisement of women.

on through a constitutional amendment at the state elections in November, were read today before the New York state woman suffrage party, in conference here, by Mrs. Norman Dorr, Whitehouse, the chairman, President Wilson's letter follows:

"I learn with sincere pleasure of your impression of a growing sentiment in the state of New York in favor of woman suffrage and I shall look forward with the greatest interest to the results of the state conference which you are planning to hold in Saratoga. May I not express the hope that that conference will lead to a very widespread interest in your campaign and that your efforts will be crowned with the most substantial and satisfactory success?"

"I hope that the women of the state of New York will rally to the support of woman suffrage by a handsome majority. It would be a splendid vindication of the principle of the cause in which we all believe."

Mr. Gerard in his telegram said the great number of women employed in manufacturing trades and commerce have a right to vote, on matters which now affect them as vitally as men and that "the war will add to their number." The "quiet, dignified woman" should not be deprived of a right to vote "because of the misbehavior of a reckless minority" of militant suffragettes. Mr. Gerard declared. He said that "the proportion of hot heads among women is not greater than among men."

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ENDS AT MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—Premier Kerensky, in closing the extraordinary national council yesterday, said that although the different political groups had criticized the provisional government, they had shown clearly a desire to arrive at an agreement.

"The provisional government," he declared the premier, "will stand guard over the revolution. It will suffer no counter-revolutionary attempts, whatever be their source, for the provisional government is the incarnated will of the whole Russian people. It does not regret having convoked the conference at Moscow, which, although it has not yielded practical results, has allowed all Russian citizens to say frankly what they think necessary for the state."

Premier Kerensky then spoke of the services rendered to the country by the revolutionary democracy, which, he observed, took power at a terrible moment in the life of the state.

"Whoever endeavors to wrest their conquests from the people," he concluded, "will never succeed, for they have now become public property."

counter-revolutionary attempts, whatever be their source, for the provisional government is the incarnated will of the whole Russian people. It does not regret having convoked the conference at Moscow, which, although it has not yielded practical results, has allowed all Russian citizens to say frankly what they think necessary for the state."

Premier Kerensky then spoke of the services rendered to the country by the revolutionary democracy, which, he observed, took power at a terrible moment in the life of the state.

"Whoever endeavors to wrest their conquests from the people," he concluded, "will never succeed, for they have now become public property."

state department at Washington that British troops have found Chadwick's biplane intact near Ypres. This gives proof that Chadwick was able to direct his machine at the time of landing and it is obvious that it did not fall headlong to the earth. The most plausible inference to be taken from these facts is that the Lowell aviator is in the hands of the Germans.

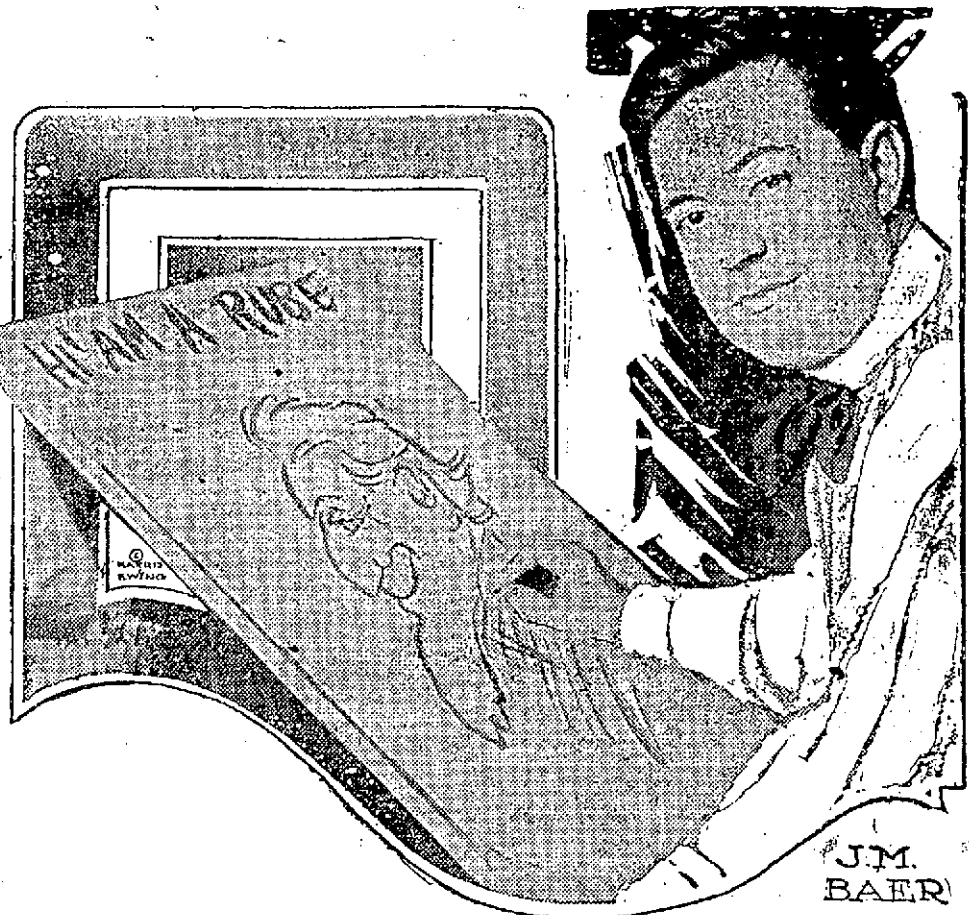

Congressman Rogers telegraphed this information to Lowell yesterday afternoon after he had received advices from the state department.

"WINDFALL" APPLES WILL NOT BE LEFT TO ROT—TO BE GIVEN TO POOR

DENINGTON, Aug. 30.—"Windfall" apples will not be left to rot on the ground in the many orchards in this town this year. A scheme of food conservation, long ago agreed to by a plan suggested by Park Commissioner William E. Mulliken and accepted by fruit growers, whereby the boys will make daily collections of such apples and send them to scout headquarters in Boston for distribution among the poor.

SOLDIER ACCUSED OF GIRL'S MURDER

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Aug. 30.—Robert Warm, of Potstovon, Penn., a private in the 18th United States cavalry, was arrested last night on an indictment returned yesterday by a special grand jury, charging him with the murder of Jennie Hemmingsway, aged 14, whose arrest was made in the Franklin county jail, where Warm had been detained since the girl's body was found on the edge of a corn field Aug. 13.

The only remark Warm made when informed that he was now formally under arrest was: "That means that I've got to stay here for the county court."

Whether a special session of court will be called will be decided today. Jennie Hemmingsway met her death by strangulation, according to the report of the autopsy. Her body was found after Warm had asked the police to look for her. He said that he had been walking with the girl the night before, but that they had separated when a party of soldiers threatened them.

During the grand jury investigation 6 witnesses, including many soldiers from Fort Ethan Allen, testified.

The following is a copy of a letter which the Associate Members, Ninth Regiment, M. N. G., are sending broadcast throughout the eastern part of the state for the purpose of raising a fund of $50,000—$17,000 of which is already in hand—for the benefit of the members of the 101st Infantry, U. S. A.

RAISING FUND FOR THE 101ST INFANTRY

Dear Sir: It appears very evident that the Ninth Regiment Infantry, N. G., now the 101st U. S. A., is about to move, and probably their destination is to be France, or in other words, the actual front line. They are going in order that democracy shall live, that a continuance of our freedom shall be assured. In a word, they are going to fight for us. A braver set of boys never lived, and that they will give an excellent account of themselves we all have confidence. They are leaving their homes, their relatives, and their friends, but they are going in the highest spirit, and with the strongest determination, and an entire willingness to do their duty as American citizens.

That we have a duty toward these boys goes without saying. Our duty is to follow them in whatever way we can, and do for them and their comfort all that we may know how. In this connection the executive committee of the Ninth Regiment, Associate Members, feel that we should immediately raise a sum of at least $50,000, $17,000 of which we already have in hand, and we are now appealing to you to make as substantial a contribution to this fund as you feel disposed.

Five contributions of $1000 each have been promised in addition to the $17,000 already in hand. This money will be spent under the direction of Col. Edward L. Logan, of the old "Fighting Ninth," or what is now the 101st Infantry, U. S. A., and the executive committee of the Ninth Regiment, Associate Members.

All contributions should be sent to the treasurer, Joseph H. O'Neill, president of the Federal Trust company, 55 Devonshire street, Boston.

Yours very truly,
Associate Members, 9th Regiment, N. G.

DECREES DEATH OF BORDEN

Anti-Draft Rally of 5000 French Canadians Warns Canadian Premier

Will Die Resisting Conscription Bill—Leaders Adopt Solemn Pledge

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—While anti-conscriptionists and supporters of Laurier's "no more men for the front" policy are busy writing to the papers, declaring that there is no feeling against conscription in Quebec province, beyond antipathy to a measure that has not been submitted to a referendum, and declaring that all reports of bitterness are designed to misrepresent the French-Canadian, a large assembly, comprising more than 5000 men, gathered in Lafontaine park, the principal open air space in the East End (French-Canadian) of this city, and passed the following resolution: the leaders afterward adopting a solemn pledge to die in resisting conscription.

"We, anti-conscriptionists, united in a plenary meeting in Lafontaine park, wish to be in sympathy with the cause of the allies, and we deem it our duty to remain in Canada to augment our national industries so as to produce the necessary food and munitions for the cause of civilization.

"Conscriptionists, who are treacherous knaves, and whose eyes are made solely to look into the bottom of their pockets, mean to force us to obey the law of the land, and to obey the law of patriotism. If the conscription bill is enforced, Borden and his men will have to suffer the penalty of death. We wish to tell them that they will have time to make a good confession of all they have done since they are in power. Nothing will be neglected by us to execute our project because these men are traitors and bandits, and should be done away with.

The text of this declaration was afterward given out by a member of the Order of 5000 heartily endorsed it. An indication of what the authorities think it may be pointed out that hundreds of secret service men are on duty here, the city police not being entrusted with the work of keeping track of the agitators. Every one of the leaders is closely tracked wherever he goes, night or day, and several of them have become so nervous that they have openly declared they will hold no more meetings after today. They will be liable to give years in jail if they do, so the announcement is a timely one. The conscription bill is now law and all its provisions are in full force.

WILSON'S REPLY TO THE POPE

President Wilson's reply to the proposals for peace made by Pope Benedict XV, is another able document that sets forth with great force our benevolent and disinterested objects in this war.

The president in the most unequivocal terms states that a restoration of the conditions that existed before the war would not safeguard the world against a reassertion of the German ambition to dominate the world. The record of the German military power leaves no doubt on that point. With the autocrats of Germany the Allies cannot deal. With the power that regards treaties as mere "scraps of paper" there can be no reliance upon any contract or guarantee it might give. In other words, the Allies as President Wilson puts it, must have such guarantees from the German people liberated from the yoke of the Prussian junkers.

This is made clear in the following statement:

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves, as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting."

That is an appeal to the German people to get rid of the Kaiser and his gang and a practical hint that peace will follow upon the most favorable terms for the German people. The president lays down a test for the acceptability of any peace plan that may be presented.

It must be based, according to the president, upon the faith of all the peoples involved, the people of each nation acting in their sovereign capacity and not through an ambitious or—intriguing government. Hence, according to the president's statement, the war must go on pending some new action by the peoples of the Central Powers.

As the Entente Allies endorsed President Wilson's stand for world democracy and the freedom of subject peoples, it is quite likely that they will also endorse this reply of the president to the appeal of Pope Benedict. Thus the Allies have made their position clear. It is now up to the Central Powers to state their terms. They have not as yet done so although they are evidently anxious to have an early peace. But they may as well realize now that they cannot have peace on conditions that will leave the German military power in a condition to recuperate and at any time in the future to throw the world or any great part of it into deadly strife. The peace, whatever it shall be, must be based upon "justice and fairness and the common rights of humanity."

GERMAN HIRLINGS

The American government has consistently refused passports to socialists to attend European conferences at which the German game was to be played. But there is every indication in the disquieting news from Russia that we have unwittingly allowed a plague of trouble-makers to be exported from the East Side of New York to Petrograd—and at German expense.

One of the last cables from the Russian capital said out of over 1000 Russians who formerly lived in New York and have returned to their native country, only one is openly supporting the existing government. Most of the rest have joined the vicious anarchistic elements seeking to plunge the country into a wild maelstrom of disorder.

The Germans are already benefiting by the breakdown of the Russian armies. If government under the capable leadership of Kerensky is overthrown, the situation will be dark indeed.

With the Germans advancing upon the capital, with anarchy at home, with news concerning America's part in the war distorted and falsified by men recently from New York there will be dire danger of a weary people making a peace with the Kaiser.

And that is probably exactly what the East Side New Yorkers want, and what they were paid to bring about.

It has been their triumphant announcement that one of the things they learned in America was how to conduct a strike. Apparently they are ready to lead a strike against all pro-Russian government so Germans may get peace on their eastern front.

The unanimity with which these men from New York have joined the Bolsheviks is suspicious. Presumably they left Russia because it was impossible to live under the autocrats. Presumably they returned to enjoy the same liberty they found in America. But, if that is the case, they would be doing everything possible to hold up the hands of the government. Instead they are doing everything possible to break down the opposition to Germanism and Kaiserism.

Why?

The conclusion is inescapable that these men are nothing but German agents sent to Russia for the very work they are now doing.

secretly, but none the less boldly, been fighting America right on American soil.

LET THE CZAR VOTE

Former Czar Nicholas has asked permission to vote in the coming elections, which are to determine the character of the new Russian government. So have the former grand dukes and grand duchesses.

If the revolutionary gentlemen now directing the destinies of Russia were to ask our advice, we'd say, "By all means, let 'em vote." To enfranchise these personages who formerly played so big, predatory and disastrous a part in Russian history would be more than a merely gracious and generous act. It would provide a rare spectacle of true democracy.

Picture the former czar of all the Russias, walking into a voting booth and casting his ballot just like any of the 156,000,000 people whose fate he lately held in his hand. Picture the Russian grand dukes, the haughtiest and most exclusive class on earth, lining up with peasants whom they used to look upon as nothing more than cattle, and realizing that their votes counted no more than the votes of those same peasants.

It would be fine for the former royalty and fine for their former subjects. It would emphasize the fact of basic human equality as no written Declaration of Independence could ever do. In would have a salutary effect on aristocracy in general, and would put new dignity into the souls of common men and women.

This interesting request, by the way, looks like a good omen for the success of the revolution. When the royal family asks for citizenship in the new republic, it must be convinced that the republic's a sure thing.

EAT POTATOES

One important foodstuff, at least, is going to be cheap. Some dealers are predicting that potatoes will soon sell much lower than at present. They will hardly average $1.50 a bushel, at the highest, in the fall and winter. That is joyful news to consumers who remember last winter's prices.

There is a plentiful supply. The season's crop is said to be more than 100,000,000 bushels in excess of the average, which means that the ordinary family will have about five bushels more than usual.

Wherefore, eat potatoes! There is no food that's more wholesome and nourishing. We can't live on potatoes alone—they're almost pure starch, and we need proteins and fats, too. But given a moderate amount of meat, dairy products and cereal foods, potatoes will fill the remaining gap better than any other vegetable. It is not an accident that potatoes have long been the main stand-by of Ireland, and that they were credited with saving Germany winter before last, when other crops failed.

By eating plenty of potatoes we can save wheat and meat. We can lower our cost of living and make our total supply of foodstuffs go further among ourselves and our allies. Everytime we use potatoes to save the bread, we're helping to win the war.

And there's no hardship about it. Just remember how delicious those potatoes tasted last winter when a mess cost about half a dollar, and the indulgence was a rare treat. They're as good now as they were then.

In severe cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Pain in the Back, Impure Blood, Neuralgia, Chronic Headaches, Chronic Constipation and Indigestion, "Fruit-a-lives" has given unusually effective results. The Cathedral Wreckers

The horrified Germans report that St. Quentin Cathedral has been set on fire by French shells—Boston Globe. The French explicitly state that their shells did not strike at St. Quentin cathedral. As the reputation of the French for truth and veracity is good, the disinterested reader naturally concludes that the Germans again are finding satisfaction for their bad luck in bombarding a cathedral as at Rheims—Providence Bulletin.

Neglected Either Way

"We are going to have the biggest corn crop ever known, and the price of poultry food should be reasonable."

says Ed Pointer of the Boston Globe. It should be, Ed. It should be, but, by natural accident, it isn't. The size of a crop means little in these times unless it's small; then you worry about it. But, if the crop is plentiful, you only get a terrible blow.—Brockton Enterprise.

A New One
It so happened that a well known junk dealer of Framingham, wanted his business listing to appear in the telephone directory without increased expense over the residence rate. He called the manager's office and wanted to know how he could get "Junk Dealer" listed without extra expense. He was informed that it would be possible only at a business rate. Not satisfied with the answer he said, "Mr. Telephone Company, let's compromise. You can take out the street address if you will let me put in my business at the same price."—Telephone Topics.

The Mail He Didn't Bring
The arrival of the mail is an event in the lives of those who, far from the madding crowd, spend a few weeks by the seashore. At one North Shore hotel this summer the register showed guests from 26 different states, Canada, Cuba and Australia. The gathering about the foyer when the line drew near for the mailman's call from the distant village where the postoffice was located. One evening not long ago the old horse of the carrier was seen plodding up the hill and from all directions was a gathering of the clans. To this expectant group sauntered the mail carrier.

"Look! he thought we might have a tempest," he said as he chewed away at a quid of tobacco. No one replied. All continued to look expectant. "Sheen a hot day," continued the carrier, ruminatively. Continued silence from the guests. At last one young woman of course, could stand the suspense no longer. "But where's the mail?" she demanded.

The carrier looked blank and startled. "Hungry if I didn't forget to put the bag in," he stammered. "But what did you come up here for?" continued the now thoroughly impatient young woman, inspired by the thoughts of that tender missive which she didn't get. "Dommed! I know," said the carrier as he fled from the mob.

WELL KNOWN WOMEN OF MASSACHUSETTS

Mrs. Margaret Lanoue, residing at 20 Perkins Place, Brockton, is one of many Massachusetts women who endorse Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the wonderful woman's tonic which is without alcohol and made of roots and herbs, and is a safe tonic for every woman to take. She says: "I have found Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription wonderful. I only took three bottles. When I started to take this medicine I was working where I had to stand all day and I had bearing down pains, backache and was tired all the time. The doctors didn't seem to give me relief so a friend advised me to try 'Favorite Prescription' and I am glad that I did for I had immediate relief. I recommended it to my associates and it did not fail to cure in any case."

Mrs. E. C. Billings of 19 Girard ave., Springfield says: "Some years ago, after my first child came I was in a very bad condition. I was all rundown, my blood was very bad and I was miserable—got very weak. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery. These medicines gave me wonderful relief—built me up and purified my blood. I also took 'Pleasant Pellets' and found them equally as good. 'Dr. Pierce's medicines are all of the very best and I can heartily recommend these remedies to any one wanting, or in need of help.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original Little Liver Pills. These tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules—the smallest and easiest to take. Made up of juicy apple, the dried juice of the leaves of aloe and the root of jalap. Almost every drug store in this country sells these vegetable pellets in vials.

Mrs. Maye Martin, who lives at 5 Clafin st., Framingham, says: "Some time ago I was suffering with woman's weakness so that I was scarcely able to do my work. A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I took a couple of bottles with splendid results. I gladly recommend this medicine for woman's ailments."

Orders for the send-off parade today were issued last night by Maj.-Gen. John P. O'Ryan. The troops will march down Washington square and march the entire length of that thoroughfare. The day has been declared a general holiday. Work and business offices, the municipal offices and many stores will remain closed all day.

Big Military Parade
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—New York bade farewell today to the former national guardmen, now the 27th division, U.S.A., when over 25,000 soldiers marched down Fifth avenue from 110th street to Washington square before leaving for their training camp at Spartanburg, S.C. Although the men began their march about 10 o'clock it was not until the great arch of Washington square probably would be casting its shadow far across the famous square long before the last regiment passed the cheering crowd.

A war time lunge was added to the parade by the orders of Maj. Gen. John P. O'Ryan, who commanded that the men march with fixed bayonets. The twenty-second regiment with Colonel Vanderbilt commanding, led the parade. Stores and business houses generally closed for the occasion.

At 3 o'clock a short dinner was served and the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to sports.

The return trip was started late in the afternoon and this evening open houses for those who attended the outing will be held and during the evening a varied entertainment program will be given. Those responsible for the success of the outing were the board of directors headed by President Ernest J. Dupont.

$350,000,000 FOR U. S. DESTROYERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Wilson approved yesterday estimates of the navy department for the expenditure of an additional $350,000,000 for new destroyers. The project will be laid before congress immediately by Secretary Daniels.

Provision will be sought to use $225,000,000 of the total appropriation for construction or purchase and expansion of engine and shipbuilding plants.

The present destroyer building capacity of the country is fully engaged on contracts already given. To reach new labor centers where the skilled men can be found to do the work quickly, it is indicated the new one-building plants proposed will be placed in the interior of the country.

A navy department statement announcing the president's approval says: "The general board of the navy, the chief of operations and a special board on the submarine menace are agreed that the construction of destroyers is the most desirable material development for the navy, and a vital military necessity."

The department has never made public the number of destroyers now building or the additional numbers contemplated in the new program. It is known that a short time ago the new construction have all been completed, which will be during 1918, the navy will have a destroyer force comparable to that of any country with the new project will give the United States the strongest destroyer flotilla in the world.

MEMBER OF ROYAL IRISH RIFLES KILLED DURING NIGHT SOIETTE

John M. Hynes, of this city, has received word from the British war office to the effect that his brother, Michael Hynes, a member of the Royal Irish Rifles since October, 1914, had been killed during the night of his battalion. Michael Hynes had been twice wounded, but on each occasion he had recovered. He leaves a wife and four children in Fenor, Trimore, County Waterford.

Mr. Hynes of this city appeared before the exemption board of division 2 a couple of weeks ago and after being found physically able his name was placed on the roster of the National Army. He is now anxious to avenge his brother's death.

GERMAN PEACE OFFER TO RUSSIA

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 30.—The statement that an offer of a separate peace was made to Russia recently by the German government is published in the socialist newspaper Vorwaerts of Berlin. It is brought out by the assertion of Premier Kerensky of Russia in his speech at the Moscow conference, that Russia "a little time ago" replied indignantly to a proposal to conclude a separate peace and that a few days ago, "we witnessed another attempt, equally base, directed against our allies."

In this connection, the semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung again is detected by the German press in an attempt to throw doubt in the eyes of the world and the German public by ostensibly denying Premier Kerensky's account of the overtures to Russia and its allies, which is characterized as in reality being no denial at all. The Tagblatt, the Vorwaerts and Vossische Zeitung call attention to a trick of the semi-official organ in denying that such overtures were made by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg whereas Kerensky did not mention the former chancellor, specifying that the proposal to Russia's allies was made a few days ago—that is, since the retirement of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg.

The Vorwaerts adds that such an offer actually was made to Russia, although not by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg. It says the organ of Chancellor Michaelis would be right in claiming that Germany had done what it could to open a path to peace by adoption of the peaceful resolutions of the Reichstag. Dr. Michaelis had acted from the standpoint of the resolution without conditions, wobbling and without reservations.

Statement By Commissioner Morse on the New Pawtucketville Bridge

VIEW OF THE PIER AS IT LOOKED AFTER THE SPRING FRESHET OR WHEN THE WATER WAS LOW THIS SUMMER

In order to find what Commissioner Morse of the street department had to say in regard to the acceptance of the new Pawtucket bridge, which comes under his control, a Sun representative called upon him yesterday for a statement in reference to the case.

"Is it a fact," the commissioner was asked, "that you are holding up the opening of the new bridge to public travel by raising some trivial or needless objection to the finished structure?"

"That is not a fact," he said, "as I will explain. There is no man in Lowell more anxious to see that bridge opened to travel than I am, but I want to see the city's interests reasonably protected."

"The bridge was built, as you know, by the National Engineering company, and about four or five weeks ago the business representative of that company asked for the balance due on the contract, some $18,500. In view of what I consider a defect in one of the piers and a settling in one of the granolithic sidewalks, I did not feel that I had a right to authorize the payment of the full amount. The payment of the total balance would mean the virtual acceptance of the bridge as satisfactorily completed. I am not prepared to accept the work as satisfactory. I believe the pier on the Pawtucketville side will not stand the hammering of the ice next spring."

"I am led to this conclusion by the condition in which the pier was left by the ice last spring. The edge was battered off the pier and several deep crevices were noticeable in the concrete."

Here the commissioner produced a photograph of the pier, showing the damaging effect of the ice and frost of last spring. It was taken about five weeks ago and is reproduced above.

"Did you call the company's attention to this damage?"

"I certainly did and it was repaired by filling the cracks or splits with cement and smoothing it off so that at present it looks all right; but I hold that a job of that kind will not stand the gaff of a spring freshet which sends the ice tumbling in tons against the pier."

"Now my proposition was to hold back about $2500 of the total until we see what happens to the pier next spring. I offered to approve the payment of $14,000 at the present time, but that did not satisfy the company's manager. The contract allows the city to hold back one per cent, which would be about $1500."

"Is the edge or angle of that pier protected by a steel sheathing?"

"It certainly is not."

"Did the specifications call for any steel sheathing for the edge of the pier, such as we see on the prow of a ship?"

"I do not think so."

"Who drew up the specifications for the bridge?"

"The National Engineering Co."

"Who approved them on behalf of the city?"

"Engineer Worcester, a bridge expert, who was paid $1000 for expert supervision and has since run his bill much over $1000."

"Did Mr. Worcester raise any objection to the sharp edge of this pier being left without some steel protection?"

"Not to my knowledge."

"You signed the contract for the bridge with the other members of the municipal council?"

"Yes, I didn't wish to be an obstructionist then nor do I wish to be an obstructionist now."

"You didn't then object to the specifications for the pier?"

"I did not for the reason that the city hired an expert to pass upon the specifications and supervise the construction. For that reason I disclaim all responsibility for the plans and specifications of the bridge. I pointed out the defect in the pier when it appeared."

"The bridge practically completed is now put up to me for approval."

and I believe I am only protecting the city's interests when I propose to hold back $2500 as a guarantee that the company will make good what I claim to be defective. As to the settling of the sidewalk, the company's representative said they would fix that in the fall, but there is no need of waiting. The depression has caused a leakage which has discolored the wall on the lower side of the bridge near the edge of the canal."

"How about the laying of car tracks over the bridge?"

"The contractors tried to prevent that, but the city solicitor has notified the street railway company to lay temporary tracks which is all that can be put down now. You see the overfilling on the road bed is made up of rocks and all kinds of material so that it will not be fit for permanent paving for another year or more."

"I will grade it down and cover the space on both sides of the bridge with cinders and the traffic will help to make the roadbed solid."

"What were the extra you said Engineer Worcester claimed?"

Here Mr. Morse produced a letter from Mr. Worcester, dated Sept. 20, 1916, in reply to a request for an itemized bill in which it was stated that "acting under the direction of Mayor O'Donnell, City Engineer Kearney and City Solicitor Varium, we have rendered a number of services in connection with the Pawtucket Falls bridge not covered by our bill of $1000 paid in July." The statement was as follows:

"For services in connection with Pawtucket Falls bridge, July 10 to Sept. 23, including consultations with National Engineering corporation, examination of details of design, attendance at hearings before harbor and land commission and U. S. district engineer, and supervision of construction of bridge:

Mr. Worcester, 36 hrs. at $7.50.....$270.00

Mr. Hazzard, 7 hrs. at $5.....35.00

Office assistants, 4 hrs. at $1.....4.00

Superintendent, 4-6 week at $75 50.00

Cash paid Mr. Ross for Aug.125.00

Expenses.....2.57

Total.....$456.57

"What experts represented the city on the job besides Engineer Worcester?"

"The city engineer, Mr. Kearney, and other men in his department, and I hired Billy Gargan to inspect the preparation of the cement and other parts of the work."

"I do not know who hired that man named Ross mentioned in the Worcester letter.

"That is another matter I want to mention, and that is that four spans of that bridge are laid over the canal of the Locks and Canal Co. Why should the city pay for this work?"

"The Essex company at Lawrence contributed to the expense of a bridge in a similar case. Why let the Locks and Canal Co. get a new bridge of this kind without having to pay for it?"

JAPANESE MISSION

and enable them to lead their lives in peace, and lead them unafraid."

Viscount Ishii Speaks

Viscount Ishii addressed the senate today in part as follows:

"No words at my command can give adequate expression to the profound appreciation I have of this honor you confer upon us. We know full well the exalted dignity and the proud traditions of this illustrious branch of the great legislature of the United States and in the name of my country, my mission and myself I thank you most sincerely."

"I grasp this occasion to say to you that the whole people of Japan heartily welcome and profoundly appreciate the entrance of this mighty nation of yours into the struggle against the insane despotism of our civilization. We all know that you did not undertake this solemn task on the impulse of the moment, but that you threw your mighty weight into the struggle only after exercising a most admirable patience with a firm determination that this world shall be made free from the threat of aggression from that black shadow of a military despotism wielded by a nation taught with the mother's milk that human rights must stand or fall with might."

"We of Japan believe we understand something of the American ideal of life and we pay our most profound respects to it. Jefferson conceived the ideal of an American commonwealth to be not a rule imposed on the people by force of arms, but as a free expression of the individual sentiments of that people. Jefferson saw Americans, not as a set of people huddled together under the muskets of machine guns, but he saw them as a myriad of independent and free men."

"I assure you, gentlemen, that the Japanese ideal of national life, is in itself first and foremost a desire to be removed from yours. We conceive of our nation as a vast family held together not by the arbitrary force of armed men, but by the force of natural development. We shall call the common force that animates a passion of loyalty to our emperor and to our homes, as we shall call that of Americans a passion for liberty and of loyalty to their flag."

Why Japan entered the war

We of Japan took up arms against Germany because a solemn treaty was not to us a scrap of paper. We did not enter into this war because we had any selfish interest to promote or any ill-conceived ambition to gratify. We are in the war, insist on being in it, and we shall stay in it, because earnestly, as a nation and individuals, we believe in the righteousness of the cause for which we stand, because we believe that only by a complete victory for that cause can there be made a righteous, honorable and permanent peace, so that this world may be made safe for all men to live in, and so that all nations may work out their destinies untrammelled by fear."

"Mr. President and gentlemen, whatever the critic half-informed or the hired slanderer may say against us, informing your judgment of Japan, we ask you only to use those splendid abilities that guide this great nation. The criminal plotter against our good neighborhood takes advantage of the fact that at this time of the world's crisis, many things must of necessity remain untried and unrecorded in the daily newspapers. I have been misled that we are doing our best. In this tremendous work as we move together, shoulder to shoulder, to a certain victory, America and Japan must have many things in which the one can help the other. We have much in common and much to do in concert. That is the reason I have been sent and that is the reason you have received me here today."

"I have an earnest and abiding faith that this association of ours—this proving of ourselves—in the highest, most sacred and most trying of human activities—the armed vindication of rights and justice—must bring us to a still closer concord and a deeper confidence, one in the other, sealing for all time the bonds of cordial friendship between our two nations."
